Affidavit in Support of a Criminal Complaint

Special Agent Frank DeSousa, of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), being duly sworn, deposes and states:

Introduction

1. I respectfully make this affidavit in support of a criminal complaint charging Scott McMahon, M.D., ("McMahon"), of Clifton Park, New York, with illegally distributing and dispensing controlled substances for non-medical purposes and outside the usual course of professional practice, and conspiring with others to do so, in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 846, 841-842.

2. I have been a Special Agent with the DEA for approximately 18 years. Through my training, education and experience, I have become familiar with the manner in which illegal drugs are transported, stored, and distributed, and with the methods of payment for such drugs and the means with which these payments are transferred to and among drug traffickers. I am also familiar with the use of electronic devices – cell phones, computers, internet and other forms of electronics – by drug traffickers to communicate about drug distribution.

3. I am assigned to the Tactical Diversion Squad at the DEA's Albany District Office. I have received training and acquired experience regarding the diversion of controlled substances by physicians, pharmacists, nurses and other individuals who illegally distribute, sell, prescribe, administer and dispense controlled substances.

4. Based on my training and experience, I know that the lawful distribution of controlled substances must meet certain federal rules and regulations.

- a. Pursuant to Title 21, United States Code, Section 822, controlled substances may be prescribed, dispensed, or distributed only by those persons who are registered with the Attorney General of the United States to do so (with some exceptions, such as delivery persons). The authority to register persons has been delegated to the DEA by the Attorney General.

- b. Title 21, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 1306.4, sets forth the requirements for a valid prescription. It provides, in pertinent part, that a “prescription for a controlled substance to be effective must be issued for a legitimate medical purpose by an individual practitioner acting in the usual course of his professional practice. The responsibility for the proper prescribing and dispensing of controlled substances is upon the prescribing practitioner[.]”
- c. The Chief of Drug Operations of the DEA Office of Diversion Control, Washington, D.C., has stated that acting within the course of professional practice “includes having an established doctor-patient relationship based upon a medical history, a physical exam and diagnosis.” Title 21, United States Code, Section 841(a)(1) makes it an offense for any person to knowingly or intentionally distribute or dispense a controlled substance except as authorized by law.
- d. Based on my training and experience, I know that Title 21, United States Code, Section 841(a)(1) is violated when the physician’s authority to prescribe controlled substances is being used not for the treatment of a patient, but for the purpose of assisting in the maintenance of a drug habit or of dispensing controlled substances for other than a legitimate medical purpose.
- e. Distribution of a controlled substance in violation of Title 21, United States Code, Section 841(a)(1) by a medical doctor (often referred to as “diversion”) occurs when a doctor knowingly or intentionally prescribes or dispenses a controlled substance, knowing the drugs were controlled, outside “the usual course of professional practice,” namely, not for a legitimate medical purpose.

5. The facts in this affidavit come from my personal observations, my training and experience, my and others’ analysis of various categories of records and information, and information obtained from other law enforcement officers and Diversion Investigators at the DEA. The information contained in this affidavit is not an exhaustive account of everything I know about McMahon. Rather, it contains only the facts that I believe are necessary to establish probable cause in support of a criminal complaint.

Basis for a Finding of Probable Cause

6. McMahon, a psychiatrist, is registered under the provisions of the Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S.C. §§ 822, et seq., as a practitioner and has been assigned a DEA Registration Number for the purpose of handling controlled substances in Schedules II through V. McMahon renewed his DEA registration on or about February 4, 2019, and made his principal place of business an office in Clifton Park. McMahon previously worked at locations in Albany and Saratoga Springs, New York. (While McMahon often travels to Vermont, he is licensed to practice medicine only in New York and officially sees patients only in New York.)

7. Through federal search warrants, DEA has obtained certain text message communications between McMahon and some of his ostensible patients. These text messages, as well as other information discussed below, demonstrate that McMahon is prescribing controlled substances, including Ritalin and its generic equivalents, for non-medical purposes and outside the usual course of professional practice, often with the intent of having his patients kick back a portion of each Ritalin prescription to him for his own personal use.

8. The following conversations¹ occurred between McMahon's phone and a phone belonging to Co-Conspirator A, a resident of Vermont. They demonstrate that McMahon illegally prescribed controlled substances to Co-Conspirator A and to young children of Co-Conspirator A, and that Co-Conspirator A then kicked back some of the prescribed pills to McMahon. The following conversation occurred on December 16, 2018:

2/2/2019 16:28	McMahon	I just feel like your saying things to please people You promised me if I sent the rx in you would come with Ashley
2/2/2019 16:28	McMahon	I just don't know what to believe
2/2/2019 16:28	Co-Conspirator A	I didn't have a choice at the time that's the truth
2/2/2019 16:29	McMahon	You could have saved half of the rits
2/2/2019 16:29	McMahon	Don't give me that bs
2/2/2019 16:30	Co-Conspirator A	I did them yes but I thought i have u some two weeks ago
2/2/2019 16:31	McMahon	Then don't lie to me
2/2/2019 16:31	McMahon	You specifically told me one thing
2/2/2019 16:32	Co-Conspirator A	I'll do what I have to do to make it right just tell me what I have to do to make it right. I'm so sorry
2/2/2019 16:32	Co-Conspirator A	And if I can't make it right then I understand if you have to kick me off your program
2/2/2019 16:33	McMahon	Make it Monday or Tuesday
2/2/2019 16:36	Co-Conspirator A	Done
2/2/2019 16:36	McMahon	Keep your promises Don't tell me to send in a script that you will split with me and then screw me That is just crap
2/2/2019 16:36	Co-Conspirator A	I understand

According to prescription data, Co-Conspirator B received a prescription for 90 tablets of methylphenidate 20mg, issued by McMahon, which was filled and sold on December 20, 2018 at a Rite Aid in Albany, NY.

10. The below conversations occurred between McMahon's phone and a phone belonging to Co-Conspirator C, a resident of Saratoga County, New York. They demonstrate that McMahon prescribed controlled substances to Co-Conspirator C, and that Co-Conspirator C then kicked back some of the pills to McMahon, often by leaving them on the porch of Co-Conspirator C's residence in Saratoga County. In one instance, on April 20, 2019, McMahon prescribed controlled substances to Co-Conspirator C's boyfriend, who was not his patient. The following conversation occurred on December 31, 2018:

Conclusion

11. I respectfully submit that this affidavit supports probable cause for a criminal complaint charging Scott McMahon, M.D., with illegally distributing and dispensing controlled substances for non-medical purposes and outside the usual course of professional practice, and conspiring with others to do so, in violation of 21 U.S.C. §§ 846, 841, 842.
